5.2	What are the Rules/regulations/procedure for revision of the curriculum and when was the curriculum last updated?	Due to the rapid change in technology, DYPIU recognizes the need for continuous up-gradation of the curriculum. Most of its programs are using a multi-track specialization system. Tracks are designed in a way to make it easy to add/delete/modify them as technology/industry needs change. It has also used open feedback system not only from students and faculty but also from global experts by means of social media. This has been very useful to fine tune the curriculum. After getting inputs, revisions in the curriculum are put for consideration of the Board of Studies of the program and then to the Academic Council for approval.
5.3	Whether approval of statutory bodies such as Board of Studies, Academic Council and Board of Management of the University has been taken to start various courses? If yes, please enclose extracts of the minutes.	Yes. Approval of the statutory bodies has been taken at the time of starting every program. Relevant portions in this regard of the minutes of the Academic Council and the Board of Management are provided in Annexure VI .
5.4	Furnish details of the following aspects of curriculum design: Innovation such as modular curricula Inter/multidisciplinary approach	DYPIU is focused on the digital future and its curriculum has been designed accordingly. It has innovated a multi-track specialization system. This allows students to get a generic well recognized degree and make the choice of specialization mid-way during the course. Specialization tracks are a series of curated electives to give learners an in-depth knowledge. Tracks have been carefully created keeping in mind future technological trends with the flexibility to add/delete/modify tracks as needed without impacting the degree name. In some UG courses, the option to provide an integrated Master's degree is also provided with synergistic degrees. Projects and internships are integral to all programs. Example – B. Tech track approach (Annexure - VII)
5.5	Has the University conducted an academic audit? If yes, please give details regarding frequency and its usage.	University is a new university and curricula of various programs have not completed even one cycle. The process of academic audit will be put in motion when the programs have completed at least one cycle.
5.6	Apart from classroom instruction, what are the other avenues of learning provided for the students? (Example: Projects, Internships, Field trainings, Seminars, etc.)	In addition to the extra mural studies as mentioned above, various programs offer different kind of additional avenues of experiential learning: Due to the convergence of technologies, our B. Tech (CSE) students would learn electronics as well as communication-related subjects in the first two years of the program in addition to the computer science subjects. This would also allow students to learn “embedded system design” along with “design thinking” to design intelligent products as per current technology trends. Lab in the Bag : Our novel “lab in the bag” concept will help students to work on the hardware and embedded systems development at their will. To make this possible, students would be encouraged to procure a device that connects through a USB

		port to a computer and provides a large number of Lab instruments available to students through computers such as Oscilloscope, Function Generators, etc. Fabrication Workshop: In this workshop, students will get familiarized with the use of 3D printers, Laser Cutters, CNC machine, etc. to make a good quality working prototype using modern tools. This is part of the curriculum for B Tech(CSE), B Tech(BioEngg) and BDes students. Our programs puts a heavy emphasis on project work to give our students plenty of practice honing their technical and interpersonal skills. Under the direction and guidance of our industry-seasoned faculty (full-time and visiting), our students will work on projects that provide them with a tailored educational experience and a solid, industry-ready foundation. Regional and International Immersion Program (Regional & International Study Tour), Industry Visits, Life Coping Skills, Certification Programs Focused on Employability Enhancement, Focus on Practical and Hands on Training, Foreign Language Training, Dissertation / Industry Immersion Program. We provide the students an opportunity to interact with eminent national and international personalities from the field of print media, electronic media, advertising, corporate field, politics, sports, science and technology etc.. University's Infotainment channel is another firm step towards creating the opportunities of practical exposure to the students and build amongst them professional skills needed in industry. University has the Modern audio-visual facilities for training in print and electronic media, a dedicated Studio and a media lab with advanced software.
5.7	Please provide details of the examination system (Whether examination based or practical based)	The University follows a continuous evaluation system based on the concept of course credits and letter grades. The various modes of assessment used for evaluating students' performance in a course include home assignments, tutorial assignments, laboratory work, group assignments, quizzes, mid semester tests/examinations (open or closed book), viva-voce, mini projects, etc. and the end semester examination. The distribution of weightage for the assessment (continuous evaluation) through the various modes listed above is indicated by the course instructor at the beginning of the semester.
5.8	What methods of evaluation of answer scripts does the University follow? Whether external experts are invited for evaluation?	Evaluation of answer scripts of the internal examinations including mid-semester and end-semester examinations are done by the course in charge themselves as per International system being followed at top global Universities. However, for evaluation of project and dissertation etc. external experts are invited.

5.9	Mention the number of malpractice cases reported during the last 3 years and how they are dealt with. (To be discussed)	University is new and numbers of students are very less and commendable, till date no case has been registered during the examination however, each case is examined by the committee who is responsible for conducting examination and deserving punishment is decided. The punishment may range from given fail grade in that component to the fail grade in the entire course assessment.
5.10	Does the University have a continuous internal evaluation system?	Yes. The University follows a continuous evaluation system based on the concept of course credits and letter grades. The various modes of assessment used for evaluating students' performance in a course include home assignments, tutorial assignments, laboratory work, group assignments, quizzes, mid semester tests/examinations (open or closed book), viva-voce, mini projects, etc. and the end-semester examination. The distribution of weightage for the assessment (continuous evaluation) through the various modes listed above is indicated by the course instructor at the beginning of the semester.
5.12	How are the question papers set to ensure the achievement of the course objectives?	The common guidelines and question paper Format are prepared by the Examination Department with the approval of the Honorable Vice Chancellor and the Directors of the School. The Guidelines and Format may vary from course to course. Those are followed for designing the Question Papers. In the beginning, based on the complexity of the Syllabus and the expected learning outcomes of the subject, the subject teacher decides the various alternative methods of assessment criteria. So the written Examination can vary from 20 Marks to 60 marks. This is decided and approved before the commencement of the term. During induction or first lecture students are informed about it. So the Theory written Examination weightage may vary from 20 marks to 60 marks. Design of the question paper provides assurance that the test will measure a representative sample of the learning outcomes and the subject matter topics to be measured. All the questions are based on the respective syllabus and the questions are graded with difficulty to gauge knowledge level, analytical level and construction level of the students for the respective course. The allocation of marks to each question reflects the item difficulty. Mostly the type of questions are Short Answers or Short Notes or Essay type Answers. Short Answers are a good way of assessing greater breadth of material covered in a course and tends to focus on testing attainment and application of knowledge. Essay style questions, allow a more in depth exploration of subject material and require a candidate to build and structure an argument. True /False, Multichoice questions, Fill in the blanks are avoided.

5.13	State the policy of the University for the constitution of board of question paper setters, board of examiners and invigilators.	Course in charge are given the responsibility as a paper setter. If there is more than one faculty for the particular course then all of them participate in the Design Process. The examiners in the subject concerned are appointed by a committee constituted by the Board of Examination. In case the examiner appointed is not available, an alternate examiner shall be appointed with the approval of the Honorable Vice Chancellor. The paper setters / examiners / moderators shall follow all the instructions given by the University from time to time in respect of pattern of question papers, setting of question papers, model answers, scheme of marking, etc. List of Invigilators is prepared by the committee headed by Controller of the Examination and approved by the Vice Chancellor. The list of the Invigilators constitutes of all the faculty working under DYPIU. All the invigilators are informed in advance regarding the duties and confirmation is taken. The Examination duties are assigned in rotation based on the course, subject, number of Invigilators required as per blocks at a time and their availability.
5.14	How regular and time-bound are conduct of examinations and announcement of results? Substantiate with details of dates of examinations and announcement of results for the last 3 years.
